Dance Grade 4 Collection

Contrast and Continuum: Music for Creative Dance, Volume I

Author(s): Chappelle, Eric

General Description: CD features 16 melodies for creative movement. Accompanying support material describes each track by tempo, time, and theme. Includes suggested activities and concepts for each track. Ideas for activities are taken from the recommended title Creative Dance for All Ages, by Anne Green Gilbert, but music titles are not cross-referenced to Gilbert's book. Please refer to the separate annotation for further information. This is an excellent resource for teaching dance, but teachers should extend their musical resources.

Dance Grade 4 Collection

Creative Dance Experiences for Children, Volumes 1-4

Author(s): Boorman, J.; Carline, S.; Vallance, J.

General Description: Four booklets and four audio cassettes provide movement ideas, music, and stories for creative expression. Each accompanying music piece on the cassette is recorded two or three times for practice and/or performance purpose. "The Pompous Potatoes" features 18 short, choreographed pieces for ages four to eight. Lessons introduce concepts of space, level, size, pathway, and directions. As lessons progress, concepts are combined. Images deal with leaves, story ideas, paint, colours, wind, elves, and vegetables. "The Astronauts" features 15 choreographed lessons for ages five to nine. Lessons work with the concepts of space, direction, focus, level, pathways, and patterns. Suggested images include fairgrounds, spiders, games, astronauts, orchestras, colour, and winter. "A Fantasy Smorgasbord" features three stories with choreographed lessons for ages four to eight. "The Colour Goblins and The Golden Cradle" features two stories with choreographed lessons for ages four to eight.

Creative Dance For All Ages

Author(s): Green Gilbert, Anne

General Description: Book explains the theory of elements of movement and provides a method of teaching movements with sample lesson plans. It incorporates a practical approach to classroom management, use of facilities, and grouping according to physical development. Useful for both a non-specialist classroom teacher to organize and teach beginning dance movement and a dance specialist as a conceptual approach to teaching dance. Two music CDs are also recommended which support the activities in this book. Please refer to the separate annotations for Contrast and Continuum: Music for Creative Dance, Volumes I and II for further information. Teachers may also wish to supplement with their own selection of music.

Caution: Teachers will need to be aware of comfort levels of each child with regard to touching.

Audience: General

Gifted - provides suggestions to include those children who already dance

LD - sample lesson plans use plain, simple language of instruction

Physical Disabilities - provides suggestions for inclusion

Deaf or Hard of Hearing - provides suggestions for inclusion

Dance Grade 4 Collection

The Creative Dance Keys Kit

Author(s): Rubin, Linda

General Description: Teacher and student activity cards, video, audio cassettes, music CDs, and a CD-ROM provide opportunities for movement. The teacher's material is organized into pink laminated key shapes that describe dance movements, exercises, and evaluation. Additional key-shaped cards provide activities and strategies for students to use in creating dances. Vocabulary cards, intended for student use, provide ideas for dance composition. The cassettes/CDs include selections of music to use with the movements or dance composition. The video demonstrates ideas presented on cards, and can also be used for student viewing. The CD-ROM can be used by the student to view various dance movements and to create choreography. The components are also available separately.

System Requirements for Macintosh: 16 Mb RAM; 6X CD-ROM drive.

System Requirements for Windows: Windows '95 or later; pentium recommended; 16 Mb RAM; 6X CD-ROM drive.

Caution: There are exercises in which teachers may need to address safety risks (e.g., lifting, balancing on other students' bodies). Teachers will need to be aware of comfort levels of each child regarding touching.

Folk Dance

General Description: Fifteen-minute video from the Silver Burdett Ginn Music Magic series provides background information about folk dances and their creation. Students can observe patterns and formations in dances from many cultures, including line, circle and square dances. The final episode provides instructions for learning a Mexican folk dance. An accompanying viewing guide describes the episodes and suggests some critical thinking questions.
